

SCHOOL BOARD WILL PUSH FIGHT

Efforts Started to Block Concurrence By Lower House

School Trustees Taken By Surprise Will Try to Have Original Anderson Bill Passed—Challenge Authenticity of Degree of Opposite.

The Danville School Board backed by the City Council has not given up its hope that the bill to amend the charter of the city of Danville so as to provide means of financing a bond issue of $350,000 for school purposes alone.

After a sudden defeat in Richmond yesterday which caught the schoolboard unawares, steps were taken today to retrieve defeat and it was made apparent that the alleged representation of eighty per cent. of the Danville people being opposed to a tax increase of twenty cents by two Danville citizens. Harry Wooding, Jr., and Luther R. Fair, assistant commissioner of labor, would not be allowed to stand unchallenged.

The school board has appointed a committee to Richmond to see what can be done. This committee would have gone to Richmond today but late night it was learned that Senator N. E. Clement who represents this district and who was opposed to the original Anderson bill was coming to Chatham. Efforts will be made to locate him sometime today in order that the views of the school board may be set forth and their construction of public sentiment in Danville.

The effort will be made to have non-concurrence in the House of the bill which was amended on the floor of the Senate and rushed through that body yesterday in which event there will be a deadlock affording a break in the fight for the passage of the Anderson bill.

Mr. Fair returned from Richmond this morning and brought a copy of the amended bill which is printed in its entirety in the adjoining column. The black face type represents the changes made in the original bill. Mr. Fair today reiterated the belief which was expressed through him and Mr. Wooding who was retained as counsel to represent opponents of the tax bill, that "between eighty and ninety per cent. of the people of Danville were hostile to a twenty cent tax increase, this on the basis of a canvass of the city."

Yesterday's action in the Senate afforded an example of the art of lobbying. The school board and other proponents of the bill were not and have not been represented in person at Richmond to help steer the bill through the Senate in which body its patron is not a member. Some of the members of the schoolboard feel not a little aggrieved that they were not afforded an opportunity to be heard and that the Senate took action from the floor on the statements of two Danville men who fought the measure. Major Anderson had in his possession not only letters and telegrams from Danville citizens endorsing his bill but also a statement signed by every member of the school board of which A. C. Conway is the chairman and members of the council, these being the duly elected representatives of the city on administrative city affairs. As against their expressions the objections to the bill from the representatives of opponents were accepted and the Anderson bill was promulgated to a decree which it is generally conceded leaves no hope for any early school improvement. One member of the schoolboard asked why no committee was sent to Richmond replied by saying that he did not think this was necessary, and that the endorsement of the schoolboard and the council and the fact that the bill was introduced by a member of the council showed the strength of the proponents of the measure.

Reports that the tax bill would provide for the utilization of the money raised through a bond issue for other purposes besides schools were made known today. The text of the bill shows that it is ironclad and that the extra tax imposed could be used for no purpose other than schools. It was this stipulation which was made known to Major Anderson at the time he introduced the bill. He requested that this ironclad provision be written into the measure and was publicly criticized by two members of the council for his attitude which was considered as a reflection on the council and city.

While nothing has been ever said in the public discussions of the tax bill in the city council or the schoolboard regarding utilization of the money for other purposes, yesterday did reveal that there was opposition to the original tax increase bill on the ground that it was too elastic. This, it seems, is one of the arguments which has been presented to defeat the original bill in Richmond and the desire that the people should know exactly what they were voting for. Notwithstanding the rigidity of the tax bill on its face the argument was used that the money under its terms could be used for other purposes. The arguments also have been used that two years ago when the people voted on the street improvement bond issue, Craddock street was one of the cities specified for improvement and the understanding now is that it will be when the money is available.

Opinion today was that if the amended bill was adopted that it would sound the death knell to the school improvement for some time or at least until some other way is worked out of financing a possibly smaller issue of bonds. The city auditor expressed the belief that a school bond issue could be financed out of current revenues. Another questioner asked if the bill was amended to a degree which it is

Clarke Fails to Appear at Trial

Laura Martin Houston (Tex) girl shown above declares she is the girl Edward Young Clarke, Atlanta, Ga., is accused of having transported to New Orleans for immoral purposes. She will testify at the trial in Houston of Clarke who is charged with violating the Mann act.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 15.—A nation-wide search by federal officers for Edward Young Clarke, former acting imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, probably will be the next step ordered by the government in its case against him for violation of the Mann act. This developed here today when Sidney Smith, Atlanta attorney appeared in federal court and asked for a continuance of Clarke's trial. Mr. Smith said Clarke had left Atlanta and that his present whereabouts were unknown.

A decline in health, due to sterility, as the cause of Clarke's disappearance. It was hinted that the government would take drastic steps to bring Clarke here before the present term of court ends.

The government had made no request for a continuance, said Judge Hutcherson, "and in the absence of such a request, the court thinks nothing should be done. The court considers Clarke should have obeyed the dictates of the court in which he was indicted. Had he done that, he would not now be in the position of a fugitive from justice."

It was added that little hope was held out for recovery for the churchman who is the oldest active Anglican bishop in the world.

Burglars Scared Away When Seen At Side Window

Burglars made an unsuccessful attempt last night to break into the home of D. C. Cadwallader on E. corner of Sutherland avenue and Green street. Two men, thought to be negroes, were frightened away before the police could arrive, when a member of the household, looked out of an upper window, saw them tampering with a lower window and screamed. The intruders disappeared down an alleyway only a few minutes before Police Officer F. T. Harris arrived in response to a call that a peculiar sight in connection with the attempted break-in was that Mr. Cadwallader, together with C. P. Drunt, a neighbor, were not at their homes at the time having gone to the hospital in response to a call that Mr. Drunt's wife, who was a patient there, had suddenly become worse. It is believed that it was a ruse by some person or persons to get the folk from home and then commit a robbery. Mr. Drunt was aroused shortly before midnight by a telephone call, informing that his wife was suddenly becoming worse. Being a close friend of Mr. Cadwallader, he went to his home and asked him to accompany him to the hospital. When they arrived at the hospital, they found that no call had come from there and that Mrs. Drunt was resting comfortably. Both men were puzzled as to the source of the mysterious call.

In the meantime two men were making efforts to effect an entrance into a window to a bedroom occupied by two daughters of Mr. Cadwallader. Another daughter upstairs had heard a strange noise and went to her window to ascertain what it was. She looked out of the window, saw the two men at the lower window and then screamed. Police headquarters were notified and Desk Sergeant Nottmunt immediately called Officer Harris at West End Harris hurried to the scene and was informed that the men had just run down an alley leading to Chestnut street. The officer spent some little time in searching the neighborhood thoroughly but could find no trace of the would-be burglars. He finally called a taxi and assumed the search. One suspect was arrested on Grove street and although it was said last night that he resembled one of the men, he was released this morning after the police were satisfied that he was not either of the men. Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Patrolman W. T. Kessler also took part in the search last night.

Some time after the telephone call was received by Mr. Drunt efforts were made through the telephone operator to ascertain the number of the phone from which the call came, but owing to the lapse of time, the operator had no way of telling from what phone the call came.

AMERICAN FINDS STRANGE WITH QUEER IDEAS

(By The Associated Press) MOSCOW, March 16.—A tribe so primitive that it believes Americans live on the bottom of the world and are therefore in darkness, has been found in the mountain villages of the Acheh region, far to the north of the Russian frontier. These people Dr. Golder said upon his return, think that Americans are their plowing while walking up the mountain sides. Believing that the world is tabulated with themselves on its top, they feel that the Americans are indeed unfortunate because they are compelled to live in eternal night. Dr. Golder said that in many of the villages, delegations treated him as a madman from the world below. Some were anxious to know how Americans managed to get about. "They thought I arrived by way of the hole in the ground the Indians have left by the Caucasus," Dr. Golder said. Although the people are Moslems, the women are not veiled and because of the present shortage of cotton cloth their only clothing consists of simple sheep skin coats. "They nearly overwhelmed me with hospitality," Dr. Golder said, appointing as my special guard, a one-eyed bandit who had 35 notches in his war club. "He would not let me out of his sight."

Last Opportunity Be Given to Those Who Still Have Leaf to Offer.

While the bells of the Danville auction warehouses ring the knell of the present season, the time has been decided by the sales committee of the Danville Tobacco Association to have one more sale this season, this to be next Thursday at all of the warehouses now operating on the auction system.

The step was taken because of the fact that a number of shipments of tobacco by freight have been delayed and because of the fact that widespread illness in some rural sections has prevented the farmers from getting their tobacco in. This sale will be unofficial that is that the number of pounds sold will not be included in the record of the season which closes today. The final sales this morning were unusually light and sales were concluded early.

This morning the actual figures for the season had not been made up but it was thought unlikely that the total record for the auction season would be over 27,500,000 pounds. The sale of this amount of tobacco has put into circulation nearly nine million dollars since early last October, and has contributed to the economic welfare of the community.

The season will long stand out as one of acrimony of rival claims and rival championship for the auction and the pool methods. Danville early in the season when the lines were tightly drawn took the broader view and declined as a community to become partisan but adopted the course of offering to farmers who for years have come to Danville the opportunity of selling and disposing of their tobacco in the way they thought best. The city comes through a trying period with clean hands after affording an equal opportunity to both sides of a clear cut issue.

NEAL CONVICTED IN LIQUOR CASE

George Neal was convicted of Map act violation in Corporation Court yesterday afternoon and was fined $50 and given 30 days in jail. Neal pleaded not guilty, admitting that he had the liquor but claiming that he was acting as deputy for Prohibition Officer E. F. Tucker at the time the liquor was found at his house. It has been left in his charge by the officer.

This claim, however, did not hold water when it was proved that Officer Tucker himself had bootlegging connections, had even on one occasion accompanied Neal when he delivered liquor to a customer.

Most Women Buy to Many Clothes

BY MARIAN HALE
(Special to The Bee)

ARE you scanning the fashion books? Are you window shopping? Are you saving out of your family household expenses?

All of course, for your Easter style splurge.

If so, take a word of advice from Peggy Hoyt, the fashionable New York costumer, whose hats and frocks are in demand by the best dressed women of society and the stage. She knows whereof she speaks.

"Don't buy too much," she urges. "Stop and plan before you spend. Build your wardrobe as a whole, not by bits. Plan as you would a house, beginning with the basement. Choose Color Scheme.

"Decide on a color scheme for the season for all your costumes that will be harmonious and in one key. Have you want the national color, gray blue, to predominate, relieved by beige and gray—the two most beautiful shades for the American woman.

"Then your shoes and hats will match any of your costumes and you will not need a large number of accessories, as you do when each costume is a unit by itself.

"The trouble is, most women buy too many clothes, too casually and too carelessly. They have so much to select from that they never develop an individual style. They make bad combinations or else never complete each costume to the point of distinction.

Plan and Think.

"For that reason I honestly believe that women with limited incomes learn to dress better than their sisters whose purses have no bottom because they have to plan and think.

"That's absolutely essential to good dressing. Over the idea that lots of clothes are necessary in a wardrobe. They aren't. But everything you own count. It's the gowns you buy and don't wear that are extravagant, price but are satisfied with and wear with pleasure as long as you have it.

"Three good dresses are better than a wardrobe full of cheap or poorly selected ones."

Simple and Elegant.

True elegance is always achieved by simplicity. Miss Hoyt believes that a well dressed woman always can walk down the street without attracting attention to herself," she says, but she is always noticeable among well dressed women for the perfection of her lines and fabrics.

"This year there is a return to color and we are going to be tempted by much that is bizarre in color and design, but the knowing woman will resist the temptation to look like an Egyptian princess or the cheik's wife."

Mike Baker Gets Himself in Hole In Negotiations

It now develops that Mike Silverman, known here as Baker, shortstop on Danville (Piedmont League) baseball team in 1927, has been placed on the ineligible list for the period of one year. This means that the peppy shortstop has by his own conduct deprived himself from the privilege of playing in organized baseball for the current season and must amuse and remunerate himself as best he may in the amateur or semi-pro ranks. Also it means that Manager Herb Murphy, who recently arranged a sale of Baker to the Birmingham (Southern Association) club, will lose the sum he hoped to derive from this player.

In disbaring Baker or suspending him for a year, he is using discipline for making statements and charges against club-owners, umpires, league officials etc., including himself for which there was not the least foundation. Having failed to substantiate charges he had made, Baker has brought his trouble upon himself. It appears that while he is regarded as a "smart" ball player, his "smartness" involved his own embarrassment and undoing at least for this season. The following letter from Secretary J. H. Farrell, of the National Baseball Commission, the autocrat of minor league baseball, was written last Friday, March 15th and mailed from Auburn, N. Y., to Owner Herb Murphy of the Danville team.

"On complaint filed in the Commission's office, referred to the National Board of action, which complaint contains the statement of the player himself as to certain irregularities, the complaint showing that the player has made charges of a serious nature against club owners, umpires, league officials and players, including himself, a check investigation disclosed there was not the least foundation for the player's after failure to substantiate such charges acknowledged when asked for an explanation that he has falsified.

The Board finds that this player has made charges not only reflecting upon himself but upon others, and in each instance has failed to substantiate such charges.

It is the ruling of the Board that Player, Herbert Baker go on the ineligible list for a period of one year.

J. H. FARRELL, Secretary.

While many regard Baker as a clever and capable ball player, and one full of tricks on the field, he probably was disapproved and disliked by as many as admired him among the baseball followers of this city. It appears that in striving to secure his release from Danville and to advance his own interests he made statements which he could not establish and which redounded to his injury.

LCMER MILLS RUN BY PAUL C. HEDRICK

SEATTLE, Mar. 15.—All the lumber mills of Washington and Oregon are running at better than rated full capacity. Statistics compiled by the West Coast Lumbermen's association show that the mills are producing at fourteen per cent above normal. The lumber industry is the best index to business conditions in this territory and retail trade continues to improve at a steady rate.

The Batemans mills manufactured 878,847 board feet in the first ten weeks of the year, a record new business amounting to 1,078,888,434 feet and shipped 1,055,743,860 feet. Unfulfilled orders to be shipped by rail total 10,767 cars, indicating a piling up of undelivered business to line yards in the central west.

Pains

This is the report of how Mrs. A. P. York, of Swepsonville, N. C., suffered, as many women suffer, and how she obtained relief by the use of CARDUI, the Woman's Tonic:

"Before the birth of my daughter, who is now 17, I was weak and very run-down, and I found I needed a tonic. I was advised by a friend to use Cardui, which I did with beneficial results. Since then, when I would have pain at... from colds or standing on my feet, I would use a bottle or two of Cardui. It always helped me, and it would be a year or two before I would have to take anything again, so have used Cardui off and on for 17 or 18 years.

"Cardui always seemed to strengthen me. It always seemed to give me an appetite. It wasn't hard to take—and there are so many times in a woman's life when she doesn't realize, until too late, that she can stand too long, or over-do, and then she has to suffer the consequences, which I found I did at my... I would hurt in my back, and pain in my side and lower part of my body. But when I took Cardui for a month or so, the pains would leave me, and I felt just as strong and well as ever."

Womanly pains cause great suffering to thousands of women, and a medicine that will relieve them is indeed worth knowing about.

Thousands of women have written to tell that Cardui has helped them, relieving such symptoms as those described above. Perhaps you, too, suffer in this way. If so, take Cardui. It may be just what you need. Sold by all druggists.

Efforts Started To Block Concurrence By Lower House

The action which arose was what the situation would be if the voters took affirmative action in the election on the issuance of bonds and voted negatively on the fifteen cent tax increase?

Two other bond issues are at the present time being discussed. One of these being $50,000 for sewer which the people would vote on and $100,000 for improvements at the city's water works. These are in no way connected with the school bond issue.

Mr. Fair who was asked this morning regarding the extent of the canvass made of the city to determine the public's pulse on the tax question asserted that this had been carried out in a quiet way, that business men had been visited in their offices by the canvassers and that the "whole town" had been studied with a view to ascertaining sentiment.

He also said that the proponents of the bill were aware that a fight was being made on the tax bill as set forth by Posie J. Hundley had been retained to look after the school board's interests in Richmond.

Mr. Hundley went down on the same train with Harry Wooding, Jr. and myself. Mr. Fair stated.

Mr. Fair also referred to the reported objection to the bill on the ground of its being "too elastic" and not specifically restricted in applying the money raised by the increased tax for school purposes.

He said that the language of the bill was "ambiguous pointing to Section 1 A of the accompanying bill which reads:

"For the proper execution of its power and duties and to meet the wants and purposes of the city the council is hereby vested with power and authority to annually lay and collect taxes."

Notwithstanding this objection however, the bill in later passages clearly restricts the use of the money raised by the increased tax. Part of Section 1 B reads:

"x x x provided that all funds derived from taxes authorized in this section one b shall be used to meet the principal and interest on bonds issued by the city of Danville after April 1st, 1923 for the use and benefit of the public free schools of said city."

Mr. Fair expressed the belief today that efforts by the school board to revive the original bill would fail and that in the press of pending legislation and the few remaining days left before the special session it would stand small chance of passage.

Good Morning Judge!

So little was doing in the police court this morning that the session was convened and adjourned before many in adjoining compartments knew it. Only two cases came up for trial and these dealt with moonshine liquor, the difference in the two cases being that one man had his booze inside his coat and the other had his on the outside in his pocket.

Richard Betts colored, arrested with a quart in his possession was fined fifty dollars and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail. Some thought it a severe penalty for having a mere quart but it was the second time Betts had been convicted of having moonshine and thus provides the larger fine and jail term. The other case disposed of was just an ordinary drunk who was assessed the usual eleven dollars and costs.

Smoking Now Taught to Women

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
(Special to The Bee.)

NEW YORK, March 16.—Girls, do you smoke? All right, then. But do you know what to smoke? And how? That's different.

Smoking for women is really such a momentous question that experts must decide. Around the corner from Fifth Avenue in the Lady Nic Shop, the proprietors, Miss Harriette B. Douglas and Mrs. Edward A. Cassidy, will tell you what's what about it.

Said Miss Douglas, severely: "Women who smoke any old thing in any old way blunder just as much as women who wear any old hat."

Mrs. Cassidy, sagely: "There is etiquette and styles in smoking as well as in manners and dress."

Forthwith they inhaled these tips, given by Miss Douglas and Mrs. Cassidy jointly, on what and how women should smoke.

"The lady vamp should smoke a long black cigarette with a red tip. So sinful looking. Upholds vamp traditions, too."

(Black cigarette? Absolutely. But no, they said firmly, little black cigars wouldn't do. Not dainty enough.)

"The flapper reaches her complete expression—er—tohaccologically—when she acquires a long Russian pipe holder. It looks like a pipe but holds a cigarette. Later, perhaps the flapper will find those little briar pipes from Eng'land the thing they may smoke a pipeful then."

(Pipes? What will they lead to? Cigarettes? Oh, decidedly not!)

"The business woman should really rather be married and keep house should use those lovely cork cigarette holders painted with for-get-me-nots and things like that. A very subtle way of encouraging a man. Lets him know you think that after all a woman's place is in the home."

(Wearing your heart on your sleeve isn't it, you see with wearing it on your cigarette holder. It pays to advertise, the experts pointed out.)

"The girl with an inferiority complex should tuck her cigarette into one of those amber holders at least nine inches long. Nobody can feel inferior behind one of those tremendous affairs."

MRS. EDWARD A. CASSIDY, ONE OF THE PROPRIETORS OF THE LADY NIC SHOP, WHERE WOMEN ARE TAUGHT HOW TO SMOKE PROPERLY.

(You keep away from tobacco that is. And the teen goddesses but among the lengthy holder, is a sort of daily dozen for outwitting denizens.)

Larceny Cases Are Up Today

Corporation court is engaged today in the trial of Mrs. Rose Graham and Mrs. Tom Howerton, who are indicted for the theft of coats from B. Kipp's store. Their total value is about $150 and the two women are under indictment for grand larceny.

Yesterday George Neal was found guilty of violating the Mapp Act, sentenced to serve a month in jail and to pay a fine of $50. The case was an unusual one. Officers found a gallon and a half of liquor at Neal's place and took the usual procedure.

Neal contended that the liquor found by the officers was not his but belonged to the State and that Laurence Tucker, a Pittsylvania county officer had seized the liquor in the road and had left it at Neal's home to be kept until he could call for it the next day. The officers arrived and took the liquor before Tucker called for it. Tucker took the stand and corroborated Neal's evidence, but the jury found Neal guilty nevertheless.

The officer said that he had found the liquor in the road and testified further that he had left it with Neal for safekeeping.

J. Slato testified that the two men had been seen delivering liquor together on Henry street, but both men denied this charge.

Something New in Danville!

We had expected to announce the opening of the Temple Shop in the new Masonic Temple on March 1st, but on account of delays in the building construction, it is unlikely that we will be able to open our Shop before April 1st.

Many beautiful garments, in every wanted shade countless designs and fabrics have been bought for this opening. Many of these gowns, wraps, etc. were specially selected for the Easter trade.

On account of the delay in opening The Temple Shop, the management has secured two spacious rooms, adjoining the parlor in the Hotel Burton. This will be your opportunity to select from a new and exclusive stock of the character mentioned above at very low prices, as we realize that we will be obliged to sacrifice our initial purchases.

GRAND LODGE AGAINST VISIT OF KING GEORGE

(By The Associated Press)
WINNIPEG, March 15.—The Grand Orange Lodge of Manitoba, at its 51st annual session today adopted a resolution setting forth that King George had been ill-advised if he seriously considered calling on Pope Pius on his proposed visit to Italy this spring, and protesting against what was termed such unconstitutional action.
The resolution ordered forwarded to the Secretary of State for foreign affairs, was adopted after the city of London Lodge No. 45 had circulated every grand lodge in the world, asking them to protest against what is alleged was "an outrage upon the Protestant constitution and liberties of the English-speaking nations."

MOLLA MALLORY TO PLAY SUZANNE LENGLEN TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
NICE, Mar. 15.—Molla B. Mallory, the American tennis champion, and Suzanne Lenglen, champion of the world, will meet tomorrow across the net in an encounter which tonight overshadowed interest in any match which has ever taken place on the Riviera.
The American woman today obtained her right again to meet the redoubtable French girl by winning two matches in singles, the first from Miss Tobin, who was defeated 6-3, 6-4, and the second from Mrs. O'Neill, who went down to defeat 8-6, 6-4.
Even in the days when the Doherty brothers were supreme in France's winter tournament or when Beals C. Wright and F. B. Alexander or A. F. Wilding made their spectacular appearances in the Riviera, never has a match aroused such keen rivalry as that which brings face to face the champion of the western hemisphere and the old world's recognized tennis queen.

OVERTURES ARE MADE WITH VIEW TO MEDIATION

(By The Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, Mar. 15.—It is known that Monsignor Nicotra, papal nuncio here, recently made overtures to the Spanish ambassador in Brussels with a view to Spanish mediation in the conflict with Germany.
The nuncio's action was disavowed by the Vatican upon learning from the Belgian government that that government was in complete agreement with the French government regarding the Ruhr affair. Thus Monsignor Nicotra's reconciliatory intentions came to nothing and the Belgian government has not been approached either by the Vatican or Spain.

CLEVELAND CO-EDS LIKE DEANVILLE SCARF, WHICH RESEMBLES OLD BANDANA

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 15.—Elegant variations of the good old cowboy bandana, rechristened the "Deanville scarf," have supplanted all previous fads with college girls here. The wardrobe of every girl who is all "choy" includes a complete assortment of multi-colored squares of silk to be worn as hat bands, scarfs and sashes, according to the most popular campus mode. They are worn on afternoon and dinner dresses as well as being an indispensable accessory to all smart sport costumes.

CAT AND CANARY AT THE MAJESTIC

John Willard, author of the "Cat and the Canary", appearing here last night at the Majestic, went to great pains to hold the audience in quivering suspense for three acts, filled with hair-raising scenes. It's hard to say which act has the most thrills.

The first act opens on a will-reading scene in a library of an old mansion, where, according to a negro servant, both good and bad are to be revealed. There are six heirs of varied types and they are all tense with excitement when the lawyer, Roger Crosby, reads the will which makes Annabelle West sole heir. There is a conflict in the will which states that if the heir should happen to go insane there is another envelope to be opened, which makes further provision of the property. Crosby keeps this envelope in his pocket.

The play is off. The first requisite is to frighten Miss West to the ragged edge of hysteria and then to keep her that way until the denouement. Crosby gets wise to something and tells her of the verse of warning the heir when a section of bookcase pivots and two claw-like hands reach out and pull the lawyer back into the hole in the wall. Crosby's mysterious disappearance while alone in the room with Miss West serves to excite everyone in the house, and, at the same time, to throw suspicion on the sanity of the girl. She's suspected of seeing things.

In the second act there is one harrowing scene after another. Miss West is in her bed-room preparing to retire and at the same time to read a letter that has been left for her by the legator. One by one the heirs-at-law, forgotten in the will, come into her room, some to investigate her sanity, some for less selfish reasons. The effect is to more and more agitate her. Finally she reads the letter. It tells her where to find a necklace of great value and the finding of the jewelry is a matter of a few moments. She relieves, wearing the necklace. A few moments of suspense—for the audience—and a hand appears out of the wall by the bed, a scream, a violent commotion of the bedclothes and Miss West is out in the room. She runs to the door. It is locked. She screams and beats upon the door, then topples over in a faint. The house is aroused. The door is burst open. There is Miss West on the floor, the necklace gone. But nothing to denote the cause of her screaming, her collapse.

When Miss West is revived she solves one mystery in the play. She suspects that there is a hidden door in the wall by her bed. This she discovers and the recess is opened. Out tumbles the body of Crosby. He has been murdered.

And then the third act. Suspicion points first to one then, another, but always keeps its finger from the direction of Paul Jones, a horse doctor who has degenerated in to a garage owner, and one of the heirs who is left out of the will. It's easy to see that the author intends him for a hero and purposely picks poor material to start on. But a lot of time is spent in developing him and bolstering him up and along in third act he gives indications of turning out the kind of man you'd like to see collaborate with Annabelle in a close-up, fade-away scene.

In the third act a doctor is called in to treat Annabelle who is far gone with jumpy nerves. The doctor has long claws' fingers. Suspicion points to the doctor. The illusion is accentuated by Miss West's actions. Jones gets a clout on the head in the dark and the doctor drags him in to treat his wound. The doctor leaves. He is morose a overcast.

Throughout the play the negro servant invites suspicion. She is mysterious; she deals in spirits; she has a spooky way of talking and appearing unexpectedly. Then there is Harry Blythe, whom the heroine and her husband described as something of a brute.

Paul Jones determines to explore the secret passageway and he leaves Annabelle in the library alone, putting in her hands an automatic. A wait, the section in the library pivots once more. Annabelle runs across the room, the door of the hall flies open and a uniformed attendant of an insane asylum newly pounced in, takes her gun, tells her not to be frightened as he will catch the escaped lunatic. In response to the repeated calling of the asylum attendant there rushes forth a disheveled man. It's Charles Willard, one of the heirs, the one mentioned in the envelope not opened. He at one time was an inmate of the asylum. Suspicion had hardly pointed his way. In fact, he seemed to be the preferable of two disappointed lovers, Blythe being the other one.

The play itself had possibilities and these possibilities were appreciated by the cast. The members sustained the interest, kept the story jumping from comedy to harrowing mystery and still deeper mystery. Emily Taft as Annabelle West and Robert Toms as Paul West were cast in the lead and they did full justice to their parts. However, their support was excellent. All in all it was a well balanced company.

CHINESE ARMY DIVISION HAS ADOPTED FAITH

CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—The Eleventh Division of the Chinese Army, called by some "the Chinese Ironsides," commanded by Major General Feng Yu Hsiang, known as "the Cromwell of China," has become solidly Christian, according to a cablegram received today by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The cablegram, which was from the Rev. Edward Kingsley Lowry, a returned missionary to China residing in Peking, told of the conversion of 4,000 soldiers of the Eleventh Division, with General Feng assisting at the ceremony. According to the Board of Foreign Missions there were only about this number of soldiers remaining in General Feng's division who were not Christians so the Board infers that this completes the personnel of this fighting group of China.

It was General Feng and his Eleventh Division which swooped down Shensi Province to the relief of Peking, then being defended by General Wu Pei Fu in the fighting of last summer. General Feng threw his men into the path of the victorious Manchurians and hurled them back in a defeat, which eventually resulted in rout. At that time the Christian soldiers wore arm bands containing the stern military ideals of their leader. They advanced to the fray singing Christian hymns. This division is the only one in the Chinese army in which there is definite welfare work and vocational training for the men, all of which is due to the constructive activity of their leader, the Board states.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches.

FRIDAY
 Jesus in the Temple

"He entered into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold." Mark 11:15.

Read Mark 11:12-19.

"The church universal is the one supreme world power for molding ideals and recreating dispositions."

MEDITATION: Is there danger that men may seek to "use" the church today as did the Jews, for material gain or advantage? The central function of the church is to relate men to God; may it be purged of whatever interferes with this.

PRAYER: O Lord and Master of us all. Whatever our name or sign. We own thy way, we hear thy call. We rest our lives by thine.

PRAYER: Most Holy and Most Gracious God, who art the shadow of night, in the morning, satisfy us early with thy mercy, that we may rejoice and be glad all the day. Life the light of thy countenance upon us: calm every troubled thought, and guide our feet into the way of peace. Perfect thy strength in our weakness, and help us to worship thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1923.

TO LIVE LONG.

Will you live to a ripe old age? That depends more on your ancestors than on yourself. Such is the conclusion reached by Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins University.

Says Pearl: "The most important thing a person can do toward attaining a ripe old age is to pick the right kind of parents and grandparents."

This expresses a definite idea, though in a way that will seem impossible to most of us. However, there are many who believe that, we select our parents before coming into the world. This belief is a branch of the mysticism now epidemic.

Many of us die young or drag along with bad health, as a result of some ancestor's dissipation or the unhealthy economic conditions that surrounded him back yonder in the past.

Dr. Pearl compares us with clocks that are wound up to run varying lengths of time. "Some men have been wound for a full 90-year run, others are only partly wound and stop at 40, 60 or some other point. In human affairs the original winding is heredity. Send in the works in environment—disease, or mode of life."

You have often heard it said: "He'll live to a very old age. He comes from long-lived stock."

If you get out the records kept in the family Bible or elsewhere, and figure the average age at which your direct ancestors died for several generations back, you'll have the most probable age of your own death. Observe that the figure will express your average or most probable chance. You may differ from the average—live longer or shorter. That depends largely on the care you are able to take of your body and mind.

How about sudden death—for instance, the man run down by an auto? Dr. Pearl says heredity is a powerful influence even in such cases of "unavoidable accident." If the victim had inherited keen wit and swift judgment, he probably would have been too alert to be struck by a motorcar.

The age at which we die is determined by a combination of heredity and environment. And environment includes early training and diet, as well as later surroundings and occupation.

Karl Pearson's researches convince him that there is a scientifically exact relation between the death age of father and son. He decided that the death age is 50 to 75 per cent. determined by hereditary factors and that these are so powerful they cannot be materially modified by environment.

The clear-cut lesson in all this is that the way we live and take care of our bodies tends to large extent, fix the number of years our sons, grandsons and later descendants will live. The greatest legacy for the future is sensible living in our generation.

Scoop's Collyum

DRAKES BRANCH, March 16—(Grapevine Wireless).—Now that the ladies have filed their income tax returns, they are making a preliminary survey of the new hats and frocks, those who drive cars are thinking about the examination at police headquarters and a study of the traffic rules and regulations of the city. Chief Bell is rounding up those who have been putting off this task and it won't be long until the roll is called.

While some of the over-confident menfolk will be stumped by the questions, most ladies will pass the examination. We say this because they are keen on getting what they go after, and will take pains to master the problem.

Here is the experience of a New York lady which will be read with interest by those who have yet to secure their permits.

Getting the License.

The lady goes to the New York State Automobile Bureau for a license. She has her picture taken in a photograph gallery, then she drives around the block with an examiner to show him that she knows an automobile from an ice cream freezer, and then the "dear thing" has to sit down and answer the following questions, and answer them she does, in the following manner:

Question—How old are you?
 Answer—Over eighteen.

Q—Have you ever driven anything before?
 A—Nothing but my husband.

Q—What is the first rule of the road?
 A—Watch out for motor cops.

Q—What is the second rule of the road?
 A—Don't let anything run into you or run past you.

Q—If your engine stalls in traffic, what do you do?
 A—Try to start it.

Q—If you park the car, which side should be nearest the curb?
 A—The side that is next to the sidewalk.

Q—What would you do if your steering gear broke?
 A—Drive to the nearest garage and have it fixed.

Q—What would you do when the batteries run out?
 A—Try to get them back.

Q—Which has the right of way—a car on the main thoroughfare or one on the side street at an intersection?
 A—The one that gets there first.

Q—What is the proper precaution to take when backing your car?
 A—Reverse your engine.

Q—What is the accelerator?
 A—The name of something you put your foot on that has something to do with something inside the car.

Q—What is the charging indicator?
 A—The bill you get from the garage.

Q—Where should you have your license plates?
 A—On your car, of course.

Q—What is meant by "short circuit"?
 A—Going around by the shortest way.

Q—What furnishes the motive power of the car?
 A—My husband.

Now everybody is wondering who threw the wrench into the works at Richmond. Another instance of an organized minority outwitting the unorganized majority. This has happened before and will happen again, unless the majority marshals its forces and throws its great weight into the balance. THINK IT OVER.

The people who pay the taxes are in favor of more and better schools. They just ask the next ten or twenty men or women you meet!

Safety First.

She is really in love with you in the opinion of Abe Sheik if she does not go out with another fellow when your car is laid up for repairs.

It is a bad sign for a young man when the girl tells him she can cook and is saving in her nature.

Unanimous.

In one of the towns of the Pacific coast a distinct earthquake shock was felt recently, and when the municipal building rocked perceptibly the city fathers, then in session, left without bothering about the usual formalities.

AN INTIMATE STORY OF INNESTOPE
 EMOTIONS REVEALED IN PRIVATE LETTERS
 Copyright 1923—NEA Service, Inc.

LETTER FROM PAULA PERIER TO HER OLD FLAME, JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT, WHOSE ENGAGEMENT TO LESLIE HAMILTON HAS JUST BEEN ANNOUNCED

MON CHERE JACQUES:

The papers tell me that very soon you are going to marry. Of course, when I read the notices all our old associations it brings up and I wonder—

—yes, Jacques, I really wonder—if you will ever be as happy with any other girl as you were with me. We were blissfully happy, we did pass?

You have never mentioned me to this Miss Hamilton, I expect, but I am sure that to forget in you will not be able nevertheless, and sometime when things go wrong and wide understands not, don't you know that old saying Jacques, "My wife is a lovely woman, but she does not understand"—well, when wife does not understand, perhaps to someone you will come back and you may tell again to her that her greatest charm is her understanding thorough.

We quarreled so long ago. What was it about, Jacques? Silly it was. I know, and that you would come back immediately I was sure; but you did not, and too proud I was to ask you to return. And now, some other girl has your life has come.

You will be happy, I sincerely hope, if only in that monotonous way which all married people fall into, who claim to be happy. Possibly it is not for human beings to dwell on the mountain tops of love; the air is too rarified.

But I am getting romantic; to be very sensible I had intended, and to tell you that a bundle of letters had tied up carefully in one of my bureau drawers.

I wonder how you would like them for a wedding present? Very interesting reading they would make for your wife, Jacques! I read one of them this morning. It made me feel quite unhappy. I shed a few tears. And very well you know that there is nothing so hard on one that is worth a tear in this world. But to realize that you have to go through affairs like these and mine, wonderful the way our emotions and to see how we are as I did when of your coming marriage I read.

To this letter what will you say?

Blouses for Spring

The day when a blouse was a shirt-waist is gone forever. If there were any doubt about this fashion metamorphosis the new spring blouses would settle the question.

Overblouse styles every one of them, except out-and-out sport models. They glitter with metallic embroidery and blaze with all the colors of the spectrum. Most of them are full bloused styles caught low on the hips with wide belts.

Egypt, Persia, India, Japan and China have contributed brilliant designs to the silks and cottons of which they are made.

THE WINDS OF DEATH

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM
 Copyright, 1922, by E. Phillips Oppenheim
 Arrgt.—NEA Service, Inc.

Vendetta begins with MICHAEL SAYERS, noted criminal, and SIR NORMAN GREYES, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers' beautiful housemaid, JANET, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead an officer sent to arrest him. Janet becomes Sayers' wife and accomplice.

In many exploits Michael escapes arrest by taking desperate chances. Janet is an able assistant, but, because he greatly admires the many good qualities he recognizes in her, Sir Norman deals with her leniently. In the Leeds bank robbery Michael narrowly escapes capture and is forced to flee the country. Janet hires out to a wealthy widow living at the Magnificent Hotel at Brighton and plots to steal her mistress' diamonds. Her plans, however, are frustrated by Sir Norman, who tells this episode:

I KNOW nothing of psychology, or any of the mental or nervous phenomena connected with the study of this abstract subject. What happened to me during the autumn following my visit to Paris remains in my mind unexplained and inexplicable. I shall just set it down, because it becomes a part to the story.

A strong man, in the possession of vigorous health, living an out-of-door life in a quiet country neighborhood, I suddenly became afraid. I had the strongest conviction that some terrible disaster was hanging over me. Every morning, when I took up my gun for a tramp or stepped into my car for any sort of excursion, I felt a chill presentiment of evil. It was not that I lost my nerve. I was still shooting and playing golf as well or better than ever. I drove my car and went about the daily pursuits of life with an even pulse. My fears were not analyzed, and I rarely seemed as though they reached me through the brain rather than the nerves. I felt evil around me, and I looked always for an enemy. I woke often in the night, and I listened for footsteps, unafraid yet expecting danger. I altered my will and sent it to the lawyer's. Several matters connected with the letting of my farms I cleared up almost hastily with my agent. I was conscious of only one enemy in the world, and it was practically impossible to find it. It was in England. Yet I expected death.

I was living at the time at Greys Manor, the small but very pleasant country house which had come to me with my inheritance. My establishment was moderate, even for a bachelor. There was my housekeeper, Mrs. Foulds, who had been in the service of my uncle, an elderly lady of 64 who had lived at Greys all her life, was related to half the farmers in the neighborhood, and was a pleasant, high-principled and altogether estimable person. Adams, her nephew, was my butler and personal servant. There was a boy under him, also of the district, a cook and three maidservants whom I seldom saw.

The only other member of my household was Miss Simpson, a second-hand dressmaker whom I had known through a well-known office in London, to whom I dictated, for several hours a day, material for the work on crime which I had made up my mind to write, directly I had relinquished my post at Scotland Yard. She was a woman of about fifty years of age, small, with gray hair parted neatly in the middle, the only sister of a clergyman in Cambridgeshire, an agreeable and unobtrusive person, whom I invited to dine downstairs once a week, but whom I otherwise never saw except when engaged on our work, or in the distance, taking her daily bicycle ride in the park or the lanes around.

Out of door there was Benjamin Adams, my gamekeeper, the brother of my butler; and Searle, my chauffeur, who came to me from a place in Dorsetshire with excellent references, a simple-minded and almost over-ingenious youth. These comprised the little coterie of persons

PURSUIT PLANE WILL BE TESTED

(By The Associated Press)

MINEOLA, N. Y., Mar. 15.—After a preliminary flight at Mitchell Field today, Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, pronounced the new Curtiss all-metal pursuit plane ready for thorough official testing tomorrow.

The plane, if accepted, would be the fastest "service plane" the army has, though not as speedy as some "non service" planes. It is capable of 175 miles an hour and was designed for extreme durability. It weighs about 2,000 pounds.

Lawrence Sperry demonstrated to General Mitchell and test made a few days ago, proving that two planes can pass supply to each other while in mid-air. Sperry flew his tiny messenger plane while Captain Clyde B. Finner piloted the larger craft.

RATE EXCHANGE

OTTAWA, Mar. 15.—The rate of exchange in connections with shipment of freight between points in Canada and the United States from March 15 to March 31, inclusive, will be 2 3-10 per cent, and the surcharge on such traffic will be one per cent. It was announced today. The surcharge on international passenger traffic will be based on two per cent. exchange.

on to the county police station and left a message for the inspector. He came over to see me that evening, solemn, ponderous and unimpressed.

I dismissed him after the usual refreshments had been proffered and accepted. A few further inquiries which I may make in the neighborhood led to nothing.

I took my little two-seater out to call on a friend, a few afternoons afterward, and found the steering-gear fallen to pieces before I had gone a mile. I was thrown into a ditch, but escaped without serious injury. I scarcely needed Searle's assurance to convince me that he knew nothing of the matter, but even so I was not a little annoyed. It was quite obvious that the pins had been quite withdrawn from the pillar.

THE fact that I was compelled to be a prisoner in the house for several days from an injury to my knee, and worked at unaccustomed hours, was responsible for my accidental discovery of Mrs. Simpson's diary. I came into the room unexpectedly and found her writing. I never occurred to me but that she was engaged upon my work, and so I looked over her shoulder. She was writing in a diary, completing her entry for the day before.

N. G. worked for two hours, practiced golf in park, lunched in, took out two-seater in afternoon. Met with accident but was able to walk home. Searle said little about his injury, which were not serious. Accepted invitation shoot Woolhanger Manor next Tuesday, at eleven o'clock. Probably return across moor at dusk.

Miss Simpson was suddenly conscious of my presence. She placed her hand over the page.

"This is my private diary, Sir Norman," she asserted.

"So I gathered," I replied. "What is your greatest joy in doing, Miss Simpson?"

"A personal one," she assured me. "I appeal to you as a gentleman to let me have the volume."

I confess that I was weak. An alteration of any sort whatever, ending, without doubt, in a struggle for the possession of the diary with this quiet-looking, elderly lady, was peculiarly repugnant to me. I rang the bell.

"I shall order the car to take you to Barnstable for the five o'clock train, Miss Simpson," I said.

She rose to her feet, grasping the book firmly.

"What is your complaint against me, Sir Norman?" she asked.

"During this last week," I told her, "two attempts have been made upon my life. I am naturally suspicious of people who keep a close account of their movements."

She stood for a moment looking at me through her gold-rimmed spectacles in a dazed, incredulous sort of way. Then she turned and left the room. I never saw her again.

It was that very same afternoon, on my return from the village, where I had gone to mail a letter with my own hands, that I found a gray limousine touring-car, covered with mud, outside my front door, and Adams announced that a gentleman was waiting to see me in the study. To my surprise and infinite satisfaction, it was Rimmington.

"I have this moment posted a letter to you," I said, as we shook hands.

"Anything doing down here?" he asked quickly.

"Too much for my liking," I answered.

"I have come straight through from Basingstoke," he explained. "The Chief rather got the wind up about you."

"Tell me all about it," I begged.

"I wish I could," Rimmington replied as he accepted a cigar and lit it. "You read the papers, I suppose?"

"Regularly."

"You know what a hell of a time they've been having around New York? Eleven undiscovered murders in ten days, and several million dollars stolen. The New York police have been working steadily for some time, and made their coup last week. They made half a dozen arrests, but the head of the gang escaped."

"A known person?" I asked.

No Indictments Were Returned In Bastrop Case

(By The Associated Press)

BASTROP, La., March 15.—No indictments were returned by the Morehouse Parish grand jury in connection with the slaying of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard on August 24, last, and the various hooded band activities, which the grand jury has been investigating for the past ten days. The jury's report was given to District Judge Fred Odum late today.

Attorney General Cocco and two of his assistants left here before the grand jury made its report. Mr. Cocco stated early today that in even no indictments were returned he would file bills of information against certain persons named at the open hearing here in January as having participated in mob activities. He did not state, however, whether this action would be taken immediately.

In the report the grand jury referred to the masked band case as "the deplorable crime of August 24" and stated that while it had gone thoroughly into the affair it could find no evidence that would warrant the indictment of an individual.

Numerous other crimes charged to hooded bands were not mentioned in the grand jury report.

More than 125 witnesses were heard by the jury during the ten days it was in session.

Judge Odum had no comment on the report. He dismissed the jury after saying they had been in session a long time and he knew it more or less of a hardship, but it was the duty some one had to perform.

This was the third session of the grand jury since the first of the hooded band kidnappings in Morehouse Parish, none of them finding indictments as a result of the crimes charged to them.

After the report of the grand jury had been made known Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Morehouse Ku Klux Klan made this comment:

"It is needless to say that I am highly disappointed. The state has done its duty and I hope it is satisfied and will let the matter rest."

"As to the deplorable crime of August 24, 1922, when five men were kidnapped on the highway of Morehouse Parish, we have carefully considered all the evidence brought before this grand jury as to the activities of masked and hooded men," the report stated in part. "The majority of this body are of the opinion that the evidence furnished was not sufficient to warrant the finding of true bills against any particular party."

"As to reports published in certain newspapers that friction has developed between the grand jury and the attorney general and his associates, we wish to brand same as absolutely false and unfounded. The relations between the individual members of this grand jury and the attorney general and his staff have at all times been pleasant and harmonious."

STATE WILL START TO PRESENT AFFIDAVITS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—Assistant Attorney General T. Semmes Walmsley, who questioned many witnesses at the open hearing said tonight he could not speak with authority until he had conferred with Attorney General Cocco, but that he believed the state would start at once in presentation of affidavits against persons suspected of being implicated in the death of the two men and for various lesser offenses.

"I am very much surprised at the news," Mr. Walmsley said. "The state had counted on indictments at least for the lesser offenses."

"The public can feel assured that Attorney General Cocco will take prompt action in the matter. There are several courses open to the state."

NEW CLASS OF MILLIONAIRES IN GERMAN MARKS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Payment of back pensions due Civil War veterans and their widows residing in Germany is creating a new class of mark millionaires in that country.

A number of pension accounts were suspended during the world war and payment was held up after its termination until pensioners could send to Washington properly executed vouchers. As a result, in some cases, payments have been made recently representing 1,500,000 marks at the current rate of exchange.

Records of the pension bureau show 229 residents of Germany are drawing regular pensions from the United States government, such payments in 1922 amounting to $87,522.

Ten pensioners of this government reside in the former Austrian Empire and these received $4,898 last year. At the current rate of exchange the average remittance to these pensioners would be 72,000 kronen a month to those on the $15 monthly pension list.

MOVEMENT OF WOOL AND MOHAIR GOODS

BY L. C. TALMADGE

HOUSTON, Mar. 15.—A total of 1,300,000 pounds of wool and mohair has been received by the Southwestern Wool and Mohair association from members in the last eighteen months and much of this wool now is concentrated in warehouses here according to B. D. Blacksey manager of the association. It is being shipped out as marketed. Heavy rains recently have started the grass growing on the range and livestock is in excellent condition. Sales of stocks have been few as prospects are regarded as bright for higher prices for both cattle and sheep. Supplies of corn in Texas farms are less than at any time since 1919, amounting to 24,000,000 bushels of corn, 601,000 bushels of wheat and 5,689,000 bushels of oats.

"What Shall I Do About
My Hair?"

A letter and some advice

"I AM a blonde. Until recently my hair was natural gold, soft and silky, and with a rich glow much admired. In the last few weeks my hair has become dry and brittle. The glow is gone, and dandruff has appeared. I have tried everything I know, without result. What do you advise me to do?"
—M. V. R.

THIS is a serious condition. Wash your hair at once in a preparation of pure vegetable oils with which is blended a touch of henna. The oils will give your hair the oil it needs. The touch of henna will restore the glow, richer and more natural than ever, and will kill the dandruff germ. Repeat the washing once a week.

HENNAFOAM has cured hundreds of similar cases. HENNAFOAM is a liquid shampoo which combines pure vegetable oils with a touch of henna, scientifically prepared and proportioned. HENNAFOAM will restore to every color hair the fullness of its life and beauty.

Stupefying Fumes Aid in Daring Hospital Robbery

NAPLES, March 15.—The daring robbery of a private hospital, carried out with the aid of stupefying fumes from a powder thrown into an open fireplace, occurred at Aversa, near here, today.

Dr. Mastrocinque, proprietor of an eye clinic, had summoned the whole hospital staff and the patients into one room for a demonstration, when one of his servants suddenly threw some powder into the fire and then dashed out of the room, locking the door on the outside.

The powder gave off dense fumes, and before the doctor and his associates could break down the door or even reach the windows, every one in the room was overcome by the fumes, which contained a powerful narcotic. When consciousness returned to the victims several hours later, the found the clinic premises completely rifled.

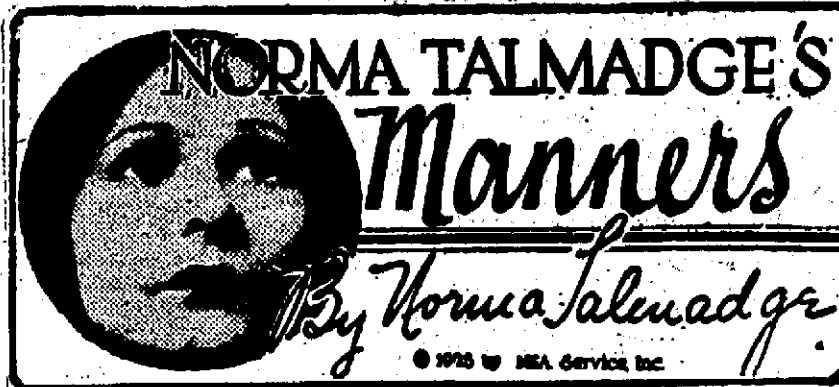

all the instruments and furniture, even the beds and mattresses, having been removed in a cart by the robber and his accomplices.

Rejects Presumption of 'Weaker Vessel'

HARTFORD, Conn., March 15.—By a bill passed by the Senate today which is to be adopted by the House next week, the deaths of husband and wife in a common tragedy or accident are declared to be simultaneous unless there be clear evidence of the priority of death.

Connecticut, by statute law, thus rescinds the operation of the common law, which has always presumed a woman to be the weaker vessel and therefore the first to expire when she and her husband die from a common cause.

THE march of man from savagery to civilization can be measured by his menus. One's primitive instincts come more closely to the surface at eating than at any other time. Possibly that is why civilized men and women have wisely made social dining an important function. The wise observe always the nicest formalities of the dining room.

WHEN DINING OUT
1: Guests of refinement make no comment on food, except to praise.
2: One takes some of every course on his plate, and partakes of it, if only lightly, instead of refusing.
3: The guest at a formal dinner or luncheon never asks for a second helping of any dish.
4: The guest who has an accident, such as dropping a fork or even overturning or breaking a dish, will not make profuse apologies; a simple word or two to the hostess suffices.
5: The guest unfortunate enough to break a valuable dish may replace it with a duplicate, or near-duplicate, within a day or two, sending along an apology.

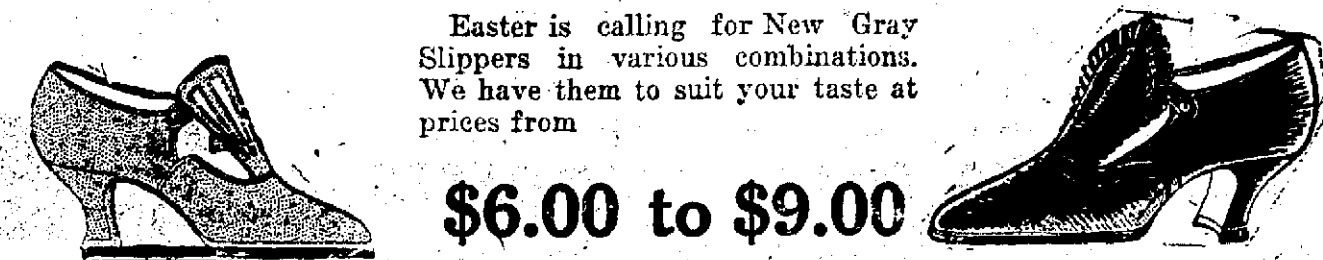

IT'S BAD MANNERS FOR A GUEST at dinner to rise and rush away at the end of the meal.

Model to Sketch at Murder Trial

(Special to The Bee.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The sketchy little pen-and-ink people, with whom she was surrounded in her art life, will be called upon by Grace Baratti to aid in her defense of husband murder.

Through these fanciful little ink-well folk, the slim and lovely ex-model expects to clear herself. For when the little black-and-white exhibits appear in court they will show, she hopes, how Harry Baratti, her musician-husband, committed suicide.

How Baratti Died.

The circumstances were these: Baratti was found shot to death. A bullet had penetrated his right hand and two had entered his head. He and his life had been alone.

Mrs. Baratti declared she had been lying on the couch. She heard the shots and rushed in to find him dying, she said. He had been despondent, she added.

The police laughed. There were intimations of "another man." How could a man shoot himself through the right hand and still shoot himself through the right side of the head?

And if he did it with the left hand why should he shoot himself through the hand at all? These questions seemed difficult to answer.

Ink Folk Aid. And there's where Grace Baratti's pen-and-ink people came in. She was accustomed to poses of all sorts, graceful or comical. With her lawyer, J. P. Fitzgerald, she called on the "little ink-well people" to aid.

Dozens of sketches were made, showing every possible variety of posture in which a man might commit suicide. Photographs fairly danced with grotesque suicide scenes.

Now on the eve of the trial a solution is declared to have been found. And this will be the defense contention.

Baratti had determined upon suicide. He lay down upon the couch. He wished to take no chances of failure.

He was left-handed. So he gripped the weapon in his left hand, using his thumb to pull the trigger. He had the barrel close against his temple in the crotch between thumb and of saving her from prison. In any event they will form a defense back-ground without parallel in criminal history.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE FOR PEACE MEETS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—Hope for reconstruction and elimination of wars in Europe is seen in the youth of the continent, speakers today told the United States Section of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom which began a meeting here.

The spirit of revenge prevailing among the older generation in France and Germany is contrasted by ideals of "life and hope" of the young people. Mrs. Rachael Davis Dubois of Pittman, N. J., who recently visited Europe said. She urged the league to devote attention to the students of this country in their studies of war and its causes.

Mrs. Hannah Clothier Hull, of Philadelphia, read a letter from league headquarters in Switzerland praising German workers and officials.

—Elva L. Forbes, arrived home yesterday via Norfolk, from Panama. She has been stationed for the past three and a half years on the Pacific coast on the U. S. S. New Mexico.

JUDGE IS ASKED TO CHANGE ORDER

REIDSVILLE, March 15.—The county commissioners Tuesday by unanimous consent, signed a petition to Judge Thos. J. Shaw asking him to modify the restraining order issued some weeks ago in regard to the county bidding a portion of the road from Wentworth to Leaksville via Jerry and Saunders school house. It is almost certain that Judge Shaw will grant the request and that the road will not go via Fouchit hill, the thoroughfare so much dreaded. A large delegation of citizens appeared before the commissioners and a number of good speeches were made.

MRS. HARDIMAN ILL.

News has been received here from Spencer, N. C., stating that the condition of Mrs. W. E. Hardiman, formerly Miss Lily Bailey of this city, is quite critical and that she was not expected to live. She is in a hospital at Spencer, a victim of ptomaine poisoning, it is said.

—Mrs. J. L. Gimer, of Winston Salem, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. F. R. Jones.

PREPARING NEW POLICY OF SHIPPING BOARD

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 15.—Material progress is being made, it was said officially today, in the preparation of the new policy of the Shipping Board which will be designed to turn the government fleet over to private ownership as rapidly as possible. Considerations may be had within the next ten days with principal and operating groups who, necessarily, would be vital factors in whatever plan is adopted.

MAGAZINE FOR EDUCATORS IS NEW PROJECT

RALPH N. C. March 15.—Miss Elizabeth Kelly, president of the North Carolina Education Association, tonight appointed members of the three committees authorized at the last meeting of the executive committee, and called a session of the committee on districting the state sectional meetings and the committee on the establishment of a magazine to meet at her offices in Raleigh Saturday, March 17.

The districting committee also will have charge of working out a suggested program of activities for the local units. This committee is composed of Miss Betty Aiken Land, rural school supervisor of Guilford county; E. L. West, county superintendent of Lincoln county; Miss Edith E. Gilbert, secretary of the Wake county unit; H. P. Harding, superintendent of the Charlotte schools; and Forest T. Selby, president of the Durham City Teachers Association.

This body will meet with Miss Kelly at ten o'clock on March 31. It will decide on the various districts for sectional meetings and recommend time and places for holding these sessions to the executive committee. The association desires to arrange these districts, said Miss Kelly, so the meetings will be of the "greatest convenience to all the teachers. The president will submit her ideas on programs for the local units next year.

The committee on the magazine is composed of R. H. Latham, superintendent of city schools in Winston-Salem; Frederick Archer, vice president of the association and city superintendent of Greensboro; John Lockart, Raleigh, county superintendent; W. A. Graham, Wilmington, city and county superintendent; and Charles L. Coon, Wilson, city and county superintendent.

This committee has been asked to meet with Miss Kelly at two o'clock on the afternoon of March 31, for the purpose of considering the establishment of a magazine for the association. The members will confer with the owners of the North Carolina Education to see if some agreement can be reached with this publication.

"I desire to have the matter of the magazine for the coming year cleared up before the summer work of the association begins," said Miss Kelly. "I want to complete arrangements which will put the magazine in the hands of more nearly a hundred percent of the teachers of the state at a price cheaper than they can secure on at the present time."

Another committee which will promote an investigation started more than a year ago was appointed for the purpose of studying and devising ways and means end to work out a plan for giving high school credits for Bible study.

This committee is composed of T. Wingate Andrews, Salisbury, superintendent; Miss Mary E. Wells, Smithfield; J. Henry Highsmith, high school inspector for the state; H. F. Shrigley, Raleigh, and W. W. Barnhardt, Oxford.

In accordance with the Underwood resolution, passed at the last meeting of the association, this committee will make a study of the Bible subject and will report to the next meeting of organization, when representatives of the various educational forces in the state will be called to help formulate a final report to be made to the general session.

Col. Jamerson, who came here in 1922 shortly after receiving his commission in the inspector general's department, commanded the 317th Infantry at Camp Lee. After going abroad with that unit, he was promoted to the grade of brigadier general and placed in command of the 139th Infantry brigade, composed of national army men from Virginia and West Virginia.

PARTY REVIEWS

"ABOARD U. S. S. HENDERSON," Panama Canal, Mar. 15.—Secretary Denby and the Congressional Party here for the joint naval maneuvers, today reviewed the U. S. S. Henderson, a fleet after the Henderson had passed through the Panama Canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Members of the party later boarded the warship.

The fleet departed tonight for tactical maneuvers in Panama Bay for two days.

PLAN MUCH ROAD WORK.

PIERRE, S. D., Mar. 15.—Highway improvements in South Dakota already outlined for this year will cost $3,332,000. The work will include construction of 400 miles of dirt and gravel roads as well as paving.

Speaks Highly of
This Home Made
Cough Remedy

Says It Acts With Unusual Speed—Lessens the Mucus—Relieves the Irritation and Stops the Cough.

Costs Next To Nothing—for a Big Supply.

Whenever anyone in my family catches cold and begins to cough and sneeze and haw and breathe heavy, it doesn't take me many minutes to fix up a remedy that will drive away all such troubles in double quick time. It's no secret—anyone can make a half pint of the finest cough medicine in the world for a trifling sum.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parement (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it.

But now you've got a real medicine—mind you—the first spoonful you take acts directly on the membrane of the throat and nose, the tickling ceases almost instantly—the inflammation begins to disappear—up comes the stubborn mucus and often in 24 hours even the trace of the cough that frightened you is gone.

It's really remarkable how this home-made remedy acts on the mucous membrane and that is one reason it is so helpful to thousands of Catarrh sufferers.—adv.

Columbia Adopts Continuous System in Athletics

On Side Kick Worries Coaches

BY WALTER CAMP
(Copyright, 1923, By The Bee)

NEW YORK, March 16.—The most significant thing about the direction of Columbia football by Percy Haughton is that it will mean the establishment and building up of a really continuous system. This will be possible for the new coach if he has Hurdwick and Bell as assistants. Each of these younger men are possessed of brains and each is a product of the Harvard system which Haughton established.

The latter is under no delusion as to the magnitude of his task. He understands it perfectly. What has hurt football at Columbia has been the ever present counter attractions of a great city. Constantly changing methods also have been a discouraging factor. Haughton is strong on discipline. The men whom he selects as candidates for the Columbia team will find that, outside of keeping up in their studies, there must be but one thing on their lives—football.

Some of the coaches of the country appear to be worrying over the elimination of the on-side kick. The loss of this play will make little difference. It has always been a strategic move rather than an accepted method of gaining ground. Yale was caught on it a year or so ago, but it has been quite extensively in school games as it is a showy maneuver when the defense is caught napping. But as a rule it takes too much care in preparation to make it work.

LEGENDRE HAS SUCCESSOR AS STAR

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—There was mourning when Robert Legendre, Georgetown University's star track man, graduated last summer, but already the students have picked his successor. The new star is picked to duplicate Legendre's feat of winning the college pentathlon championship of the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival three years in succession.

Plansky is the new Georgetown star. He is speedy on the track in every distance from 200 meters to half a mile. In addition, he has a record of over 22 feet in the broad jump, and is far from mediocre in other track events.

AUTOMOBILES

ATLANTA, March 15.—The sales of automobiles in the southeast is greater today than at any time since 1919. This is particularly noticeable in the moving of used cars which congest the market for a time.

Big Three Will Hold Love Feast

(Copyright, 1923, By The Bee)

NEW YORK, March 16.—An interesting and highly important innovation in intercollegiate rivalry is contained in the announcement that Captain Mel Dickenson, of the 1922 Princeton eleven in the name of the Tiger team has invited the members of the Harvard and Yale football eleven of 1922 to a dinner at the Yale club in New York on Saturday night. It looks as though this informal social gathering of the fierce contestants in the big three games will be a fixture.

There are many reasons why all lovers of intercollegiate sport should be pleased at this development, which by the way is not dissimilar in some of its features to the before-the-game dinner which the University of Chicago eleven used to have with important rival outfits.

This big three dinner will probably set an example which other near rivals throughout the country will eventually follow.

If, as is expected, this dinner becomes an annual affair, it will most certainly tend to diminish an over-ferocious sense of hostility and will put the spectators in a better frame of mind than they have been upon past occasions when they assembled in the mood of persons minded to look upon a "mortal combat."

Danville Men Win On the Mat

The Danville Y. M. C. A. defeated the Schoolfield Y. M. C. A. wrestling team in the first match of the series by the score of 18 to 17.

The bouts were run on the scoring basis of five points for a fall, three for the winner on points and two points for the loser. Every match was hard fought and clean, with the Danville "Y" boys surprising their most ardent admirers by their clever work.

The Schoolfield team showed that they had some clever coaching and put up a game fight all the way, with the score standing seventeen to thirteen in their favor before the last bout, which John Wilson won for Danville by some clever wrestling.

In the first bout Richard Graveley, 98 pounds, fought it out with Lemons, 110 pound. Graveley put up a game fight against his larger opponent, but Lemons' weight and cleverness gave him the match on points.

Dudley then went on with Lemons in the bantam weight class, winning on points, although Lemons put up a game fight.

The lightweight class brought Horace Taylor, 133 pounds against Hardis, 132 pounds, in the most spectacular match of the evening. Hardis a former college star and an experienced wrestler had his hands more than full with Taylor, who is as fast as a star.

It required an extra three minute period to decide this bout but in this extra time Taylor had all the better of the argument and won the bout on points.

L. Wilson, 135 pounds, Danville, put up a game fight against Honeycutt, 142, but lost on a fall, although it required an extra three minutes. Honeycutt is an experienced wrestler and a fine fellow, but it took all his skill and strength to get the fall.

Graveley, 148 of Danville, had the best of his argument with Holt, 137, and soon had the Schoolfield boy tied up so badly that he conceded the fall.

W. D. Taylor, Danville, lost to Anderson in the shortest bout of the evening, Anderson getting a fall in quick order.

John Wilson, 175 pound, Danville, took a fall out of Oliver, 166, in rather quick order, but as fast as a star.

It was a fine match all the way and was greatly enjoyed by all the fans present and by the participants. The next match of the series will be put on next Thursday night in the Municipal Hall.

Mr. Brown, of Schoolfield, refereed the bouts and did good work. It had been planned to have Mr. Stevens referee, but on account of missing connections he did not arrive until nearly the finish of the bouts.

The score: Danville Schoolfield
Feather wt. Graveley 2, Lemons 3
Bantam Dudley 3, Lemons 2
Light wt. H. Taylor 3, Hartis 2
Welter wt. L. Wilson, 0, Honeycutt 3
Middle wt. Graveley 3, Holt 0
Light heavy, W. D. Taylor, 0, Anderson 5
Heavy J. Wilson, 5, Oliver 0
Total score Danville 18 Schoolfield 17.

BILL BRENNAN OUT OF DANGER

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 15.—Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, who is in a hospital with a slight concussion of the brain resulting from his knockout at the hands of Louis Angel Firpo, Monday night in Madison Square Garden, tonight was declared "out of danger" by a specialist attending him.

He will be able to leave the hospital in three or four days, it was said.

Brennan's manager, Leo P. Flynn, tonight made public a letter written to the boxer by William Muldoon, champion of the World for the light-heavy division, in which Muldoon praised his showing against Firpo's terrific attack and branded as "unworthy of consideration" newspaper charges that the bout was "fixed" for the South American to win.

In addition to the regular schedule, Manager Roller has arranged for a series of practice games with various teams of the Roanoke City League. ## CARPENTIER TO MEET SIKI ON SEP. 16

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, March 15.—The French Boxing Federation announced this evening that a fight between Georges Carpentier and "Battling" Siki has been definitely arranged for September 16 in the Buffalo Stadium.

Francis Dascamps has acknowledged acceptance of the date in the name of Carpentier and Siki who was informed by telegraph of the arrangement, has sent his acceptance from Dublin.

"RABBIT" PUNCH IN BOXING

The blow that has come to be known as the "rabbit" punch is one delivered by a boxer by clubbing down on the back of an opponent's neck, usually while at close quarters.

It is not a sportsmanlike blow, whether allowed or not. It is too much like actually clubbing a man, although in nearly every instance the blow lands when the other fellow is ducking to avoid a drive for the face or stepping inside a vicious swing.

Firpo is inclined to use what close champions call a "rabbit" punch because of his premeditated Dempsey has used it because he hits with a furious, ever moving two-handed attack. He simply keeps punching, and in trying to escape his opponent sometimes gets it "in the neck."

RED CROSS IS DOING RELIEF IN STORM AREA

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—The American Red Cross has accepted responsibility for relief work in the storm swept section of Tennessee and will care for the widows and orphans of the 18 persons killed, five necessary medical treatment to about sixty injured, clothes and shelter families made homeless and help the victims to return to a helpful basis.

In making this announcement today National Headquarters declared Tennessee towns had pooled their relief funds and turned them over to the Red Cross whose efforts are in charge of Carter Taylor, director of disaster relief for the southern division of the organization. The Red Cross is paying all administrative costs, donations being devoted solely to relief work.

MAGICAL BEAUTIFIERS FOR WOMEN

Women everywhere are trying all kinds of beautifiers, only to find that their effects are transitory. The first requisite of beauty is health. Without it the skin is sallow, eyes are lusterless, dark circles appear beneath them, the complexion becomes sallow, and almost invariably the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to women. There is a very inexpensive remedy for this condition in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly fifty years has been relieving women from some of the worst forms of female ills. Why not let it restore you to health and beauty and the joys of living?

KIDNEY DISEASE

CLEAN UP POISON SOAKED KIDNEYS ADVISES DR. CAREY

Thousands Die Every Year Because They Allow Poisons Deposits to Accumulate in Kidneys

Don't flush your kidneys with harsh makeshifts, says Dr. Carey; they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them rough.

For 40 years I have been using my famous Prescription No. 777 for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price.

Beware of kidney disease. Thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health.

If you have specks floating before the eyes, putrid, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or sideache you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777 right away.

It has conquered thousands of cases of kidney and bladder diseases and is the medicine you can always depend upon.

TOSSED A SOCIAL BOMBSHELL

Exclusive Massachusetts society was given its sensation of the season when Grace Draper of Hopedale, Mass., 18-year-old daughter of one of Massachusetts' most prominent families, eloped with her first cousin, Harry E. Chariot of St. Louis. She is the grand-niece of Eben S. Draper, former governor of Massachusetts.

1 KILLED 2 HURT IN AUTO WRECK

(By The Associated Press)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Mar. 15.—L. S. McDonald, president of the Arkansas Traffic association, was killed and two men were injured when the automobile in which they were riding early today crashed into a string of freight cars on a railroad siding in North Little Rock. William Powers and Maurice Smith, of Conway, suffered injuries about the head. Their condition was regarded as serious. The other three injured were not seriously hurt. Mr. McDonald was driving the automobile in which the men were returning from North Little Rock after attending a celebration incident to the opening of a bridge across the Arkansas river.

Tim Healy Gives First Interview to Milton Bronner

By MILTON BRONNER
(Copyright, 1923, NEA Service.)
DUBLIN, March 16.—The Irish Free State is rapidly coming out of the storms. There may be a few more squalls—dying squalls—but under the leadership of President Cosgrave and his brave band of cabinet ministers, I am very hopeful that a few more months will see fair weather and smooth seas.

It was His Excellency, Timothy Healy, first governor general of the Irish Free State, who was talking. And it was the first time he had talked for publication since he had been sworn in.

Fact is, it is probably the first time any governor general of a self-governing nation in the British empire had thus spoken.

But then Tim Healy, great lawyer, famous orator, noted wit, for long years a fighter for Ireland in the British Parliament, has been breaking rules all his life.

We were seated in the handsome library study in the viceregal lodge that not so long ago had been occupied by British viceroys. British red was the predominant color in the furnishings. They are predicting that in the not dim future Tim will have Irish green all over the place.

The pity of what is happening and what has happened since a small number of men put themselves up as superior to the mandate of their fellow citizens," continued Healy, "is the moral hurt that has been done to the name of Ireland and the Irish people."

"Everywhere Irishmen are ashamed of what is happening in Ireland. They are ashamed of what people are saying about us."

This hurt is even greater than the material and personal loss caused to our people by the damage to property and the murder of our citizens.

"A few persons leading on thoughtless boys have virtually said to the mass of the Irish people: 'You say you want peace in Ireland and that the treaty with England establishing the Irish Free State is the way to peace with liberty and self-rule. Well, we will not let you have peace.'"

"But that can't go on for long. You can't set yourself up against the clergy, the press and practically the bulk of the people."

"To murder fine old men, to burn down houses, to cut down barns doesn't convert the Irish people. It simply stiffens them in their determination to see this thing through and support orderly government."

"I expect to see great things in Ireland. I have a good climate, rich soil and an industrious people. Give us peace and you will find Ireland a rich and happy nation."

"What little Denmark can do, we can more than duplicate because we have the thing the world wants—bacon, butter, cheese, flax."

"As an old fighter for Ireland, it does my heart good when I see them changing the guard here at the viceregal lodge, not because Tim Healy is the occupant of it, but because of what it means—soldiers of the Irish Free State carrying the flag of that state, changing the guard of that lodge occupied by an untitled Irishman, sprung from the main people."

"We have a splendid, honorable peace with England. The Irish people are masters in their own house and Irish soldiers in Irish green are on guard."

"I am convinced that most Americans, like most Irishmen and most Britons, are delighted that at last the old quarrel has been honorably settled and that Ireland on St. Patrick's Day, 1923, can look forward to bright hopes instead of backward to tragic memories."

LITTLE GIRL CRUSHED BY LOG FROM WOODPILE

(By The Associated Press)
STAUNTON, Va., March 15.—Seven year old Hazel Ryan was killed today when a log rolled from a wood pile at her father's home and crushed her head. The little girl was playing about the woodpile while her small brother was cutting wood.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING

"It is six years since I had my first stomach trouble. It rapidly grew worse. My food would not digest and I was reduced to skin and bone. My doctor put me on a starvation diet, and when my pains grew worse I concluded it was too much of a good thing. On the advice of my druggist I tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and am now entirely well." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. McFall's Drug Store—Adv.

COUNTY AUTHORITIES WILL PROBE FIRE AT ALMSHOUSE

(By The Associated Press)
ANGELICA, N. Y., March 15.—County authorities moved tonight to investigate the fire at the Allegheny County Alms House which resulted in the death of seven women inmates and two men employees. The fire started at midnight and destroyed three of the buildings within an hour.

All of the buildings were connected by conduits and runways. The fire started in the service building and spread along the frame passage ways to the superintendents house and the women's dormitory. The men's building was not damaged.

The fire was discovered by two employees who were on the second floor of the service building. The men barely escaped death. They denied today earlier reports that an explosion preceded the fire. Superintendent William Hall and other employees aided in rescuing inmates of the women's dormitory until the flames drove them out.

Of fourteen women on the second floor, nine were saved. Four perished in the flames and one was killed by leaping from a window, two of the seven patients in the infirmary rooms were burned to death.

EMPLOYER MAKES HIS HELP HEIRS TO HIS BUSINESS

(Special to The Bee)

KANSAS CITY, March 16.—When death claims Ernest H. Wright, his sole heirs will be—the employees of the industry he founded. Wright is the inventor and manufacturer of liquid smoke, used in curing hams. He does more than $500,000 worth of business yearly. More than two years ago Wright made a formal will bequeathing the business to those employed in it. He has no other heirs.

It started in June, 1919, when Wright went away for a month's vacation and told no one where he was going. It was up to his employees to run the business without direction from him.

Plant's Biggest Month. In that month the company did a bigger business than in any other month of its history. So upon his return Wright called his workers together and told them any month they duplicated that record he'd add 25 per cent to the pay of each and for every $1,000 over the record he'd grant an increase of 8 per cent.

Then two years ago, Wright went to Japan for two years, telling no one his address. The business rolled right along and produced profits as usual.

Now says Wright: "I'm satisfied they can carry on the business when I'm dead. I prescribe no form of management in my will. They've watched me run the business for years and they must find a way.

The above is an incomplete word square. The word "VICAR" reads from left to right and from top to bottom. Can you fill in the stars with letters so as to form five words that read the same from top to bottom as from left to right? The letter "V" in the lower left-hand corner is given as a starter.

Yesterday's answer: When the bakerman was stuck by 18 sets of hanging under the train had passed under nine bridges and tunnels, because the cords are placed at each end of a bridge or tunnel. As the train went under twice as many bridges as tunnels and the total was nine, there were six bridges and three tunnels.

ENTRIES FOR 1923 DAVIS CUP PLAY CLOSED YES'DY

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Entries for 1923 Davis Cup play were closed here tonight by the United States Lawn Tennis Association with seventeen nations representing all parts of the world, entered for what promises to be the most interesting contest in the history of international court competition. The entry list exceeds by three the previous record, made last year.

No eleventh hour entries were received today but it was said that many received before the draw is made tomorrow at noon would be given consideration, providing they were dispatched before midnight tonight.

The draw will be made in two sections for the first time in Davis Cup history, thirteen nations being listed in the European zone and four in the American zone. The final round series to determine America's challenger will bring together the respective zone winners.

The final round is scheduled in the country on August 17 and 19 and the challenge round will follow at Forest Hills, N. Y., August 31, September 1 and 2.

This year's challengers for the trophy include all the 1922 competitors except the Philippine Islands. New comers to the list are the Argentine and Ireland.

WATTS IS FINED FOR IMMORALITY

(By The Associated Press) RALEIGH, March 15.—A. D. Watts, former commissioner of revenue of North Carolina, charged with aiding and abetting immorality today pled guilty in the city court and was fined $100 and costs. The former official who resigned immediately after the police raided his apartment here in January made no statement to the court, other than to order his lawyer, T. J. McRae, Grace Bramham and Robert McDowell, charged with aiding and abetting immorality in connection with the raid did not appear. Captains sent to Statesville for service on the warrant have been returned and officials said they believed they have departed for parts unknown. After his resignation, Watts went to Statesville where he entered a sanatorium. His case was tried here today. He called but was postponed each time on the plea of attorneys that Watts was ill.

Two negroes were charged over a mule. "The mule was tied to a tree

"Dat's a very spited mule," said the owner.

"Maybe he is," said the prospective buyer, "but he don't look like it to me."

He looks kinda doped to me," he said.

He's so spited," insisted the other, "dat I has to keep him tied to all de time."

"Well, untie him and lessee how spited he is."

"Is efared to untie dat mule," said the seller. "He's too spited."

After much argument the mule was untied. He straightened up, cocked an eye about him, shook himself and then ran madly across the field, colliding head-on with another tree.

"Wh, dat mule's blind!" exclaimed the possible buyer.

"Blind?" No sah. Dat mule ain't blind. He's just so spited he don't give a dam."
